

Enclosure: Questions for Chevron from Senator Dianne Feinstein

1. What are Chevron's current financial interests, including leases, contracts, and royalty arrangements, in the Arctic?
2. How do you square Chevron's pledge to the industry's methane guiding principles with its advocacy before the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) announcement in August about its rules to control this pollutant?
3. As a member organization of the American Petroleum Institute (API), does Chevron agree with API's statement in support of weaker methane emissions standards?
4. What is Chevron's internal social cost of carbon metric, how often is it updated, and how has it been used?
